

Individual Reflection Week 8

We have finished the app. This week our main focus was to polish and fix bugs but also prepare for the presentation. We had a math assignment that needed to be in this week so the stress has definitely increased since last week.

I have not been working with new functionality in android studio so i have not learnt much new. Same as last week we have been reviewing code and fixing bugs. I would still like to know for the next project about android architecture. To do this I have to bring it up in the next project we have and do research.

Again like last week there is not much to teach the team. We have finished the final touches and are planning on putting it on the play store.

We have not had many new user stories. Mostly fixing bugs. I would like to use scrum for smaller bug fixes so we all know what everyone is doing, because there was some mix up in who would fix what. To fix this I need to talk to the group about implementing this type of scrum board.

I have been fixing bugs and cleaning up code in the TODO. Although this week I did not work as much as usual due to other assignments and upcoming exams. I would like to have more specific things to do. I need to talk to my group about this.
